Clive waited quietly for the enemy to attack him. Indeed he was so cool in this hour of danger, that, being very tired, he lay down to sleep: but the army of the enemy was in fact a mere mob armed with matchlocks and spears, and they undertook no distinct movement. They loaded and fired, until a shower of rain wet their powder, and then they began to retreat. Of this Clive quickly took advantage. He pointed his artillery on the broken masses of the enemy, and turned their confusion into headlong flight. The Nabob lost all his artillery and his baggage. Ever since that day the English have been supreme in India. 1 Trlchnop oll--A town 180 miles l...
