Far from Home - Memories of World War II and Afterward

By Mary Wright

Gallaudet University Press,U.S. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Far from Home - Memories of World War II and Afterward, Mary Wright, She s got no more business there than a pig has with a Bible. That s what her father said when Mary Herring announced that she would be moving to Washington, DC, in late1942. Recently graduated from the North Carolina School for Black Deaf and Blind Students, Mary had been invited to the nation s capital by a cousin to see a specialist about her hearing loss. Though nothing could be done about her deafness, Mary quickly proved her father wrong by passing the civil service examination with high marks. "Far from Home: Memories of World War II and Afterward," the second installment of her autobiography, describes her life from her move to Washington to the present. Mary soon became a valued employee for the Navy, maintaining rosters for the many servicemen in war theaters worldwide. Her remarkable gift for detail depicts Washington in meticulous layers, a sleepy Southern town force-grown into a dynamic geopolitical hub. Life as a young woman amid the capital s Black middle class could be warm and fun, filled with visits from family...
